Raising happy, successful children is a goal of every parent of gifted children. In On the Social and Emotional Lives of Gifted Children, the nation's leading authority on the psychology of gifted children offers advice and encouragement for both parents and teachers. In a thoughtful, conversational style, the author offers an in-depth look at the complex social and emotional issues faced by gifted children. This revised and updated fourth edition of the popular text contains more than 10 new chapters, featuring contributions by scholars on gifted children's development from across the nation. On the Social and Emotional Lives of Gifted Children tackles important and timely issues dealing with the social and emotional needs of today's gifted children, including who gifted children are and what giftedness means; how parents, teachers, and counselors can guide gifted children; the issues facing gifted students in the 21st century such as technology and terrorism; and how the education of gifted children can adapt for the future. This concise, sensitive look at gifted children and their social and emotional world offers unique insights for both teachers and parents who support these special children.

Russell Howell:

As a university student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library or even make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's spirit or real their interest. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring and also can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this On the Social and Emotional Lives of Gifted Children can make you feel more interested to read.
