Part of the appeal of Minecraft is the freedom to create whatever you want. Whether you wish to build a multi-tiered diamond tower on the side of a mountain or replicate your favorite pixel art block by block, Minecraft is a fantastic creativity tool with very few limitations.

Seeing as it has such a large cult following, it's no surprise that some truly talented individuals have put their creativity to use and built some rather impressive structures. With a little ingenuity, you can build bridges, towers, self-powered mine tracks, and even basic computers, such as calculators.

To honor these devoted fans, I have searched the depths of the Internet to find the top 30 most amazing Minecraft structures in existence. Each of these projects must have taken hours, if not days, of dedicated work. And just to give you a little of perspective, the majority of these were built legitimately — by mining, crafting, smelting, and stacking every block individually — a truly impressive feat in the ultimate sandbox game.

So you're going to need to download this Handbook Now!

This guide was written to help people like you. Complete with visual aids for both guidance and inspiration, it is divided into four unique sections and will walk you through some of the more notable structures out there.
